Act for diversity

ACTION KIT

DIVERSITY DAY
LÉTZEBUERG 26.05.2020
On 26th May, Luxembourg is celebrating its sixth edition of the Diversity Day Lëtzebuerg, its national day of diversity.

Organised by the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg, this event aims to bring together companies, public organisations, and non-profit organisations around the common aim of promoting diversity. Challenging misconceptions and stereotypes, the country will be able to assert itself in all its diversity, celebrating the recognition of each individual’s talents and working towards a more inclusive society.

All organisations set up in Luxembourg are invited to “act for diversity” on that day, whether they are private companies, public organisations or non-profit organisations, irrespective of their size, and whether or not they are signatories of the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg. Although promoting diversity is a continuous effort and a long-term commitment, next 26th May will be a privileged opportunity for organisations to illustrate their commitment by concrete actions for all their employees. Some of the possible approaches are detailed in this document.

This national day will also be marked by the strong support of Ms Corinne Cahen, Minister for Family, and Integration and Patron of the Charter, who will be on the field to encourage initiatives and best practices. All aspects of diversity will be celebrated, and issues as varied as gender equality, sexual orientation or identity, physical appearance, disability, family situation, educational level, origins, beliefs or cultural differences etc. will all be showcased.

Making people aware of the stakes of diversity and celebrating plurality as a source of enrichment are decisive factors in building a “living-together”, a driving force for social and economic performance in the Grand Duchy.

Communication plays an essential role in raising awareness, and organisations are invited to relay this effort for diversity, among other things by using the diversity communication kit presented here.

Looking forward to seeing you on 26th May.

Thank you for taking a stand for diversity.

“In a company, Diversity refers to the variety of human profiles that can exist in it: country or region of origin, neighbourhood, family, name, culture, age, gender, physical appearance, disability, sexual orientation, diplomas, etc. the notion of Diversity reflects the entirety of personal, social, and organisational characteristics which partake in the construction of the identity and personality of individuals.”

COMMIT

INCORPORATE DIVERSITY INTO THE VALUES OF THE ORGANISATION

The national Diversity Day Lëtzebuerg is the chance to formalise your organisation’s commitment to diversity.

> Enshrine Diversity as a key value of the organisation;

> Support this statement by articulating it with the organisation’s purpose and strategy. Point out its benefits. A diversity policy may seem virtuous but low-priority because its effects are not identified;

> Formalise this commitment by creating a specific charter or by adapting the organisation’s charter;

> Communicate these values internally and externally;

> Highlight the management team’s strong and determined commitment to this common vision.

SUCCESS THROUGH DIFFERENCES
ING Luxembourg

ING has taken the initiative to distribute a Manifesto (en / fr) to each employee and newcomer which describes the company’s commitment towards diversity. It shows how to act for diversity and how it is generating success.

SIGNING THE DIVERSITY CHARTER LËTZEBUERG

Companies that wish to show their commitment towards diversity can officially sign the Diversity Charter Lëtzebuerg on 26th May and use the Diversity Day to communicate their commitment to their staff, clients and/or suppliers.

* More information on the initiatives of 2017, 2018 and 2019 at chartediversite.lu/en/pages/diversity-day

ADAPT THE GOVERNANCE OF THE ORGANISATION

The national Diversity Day Lëtzebuerg can be an opportunity to set up a structure in charge of diversity issues.

> Appoint a diversity officer;

> Create a Diversity Working Group and/or a Steering Committee for diversity projects.

On 26th May, for example:

> Official launch of this Group/Committee and appointment of its members;

> This Group/Committee’s first meeting.
Networks to promote diversity enable people to connect and share experiences and work towards valuing the talents of all individuals.

They may be dedicated to different aspects of diversity (gender equality, generational equality, cultural diversity, etc.).

They can be limited to the organisation itself or be specific to a sector in which stakeholders can come together around diversity issues that they have in common (construction industry, educational sector, etc.).

On the 26th May, organisations can:
> Create an internal network;
> Join or create a network in one’s sector.

Communication is a key pillar of diversity action. Making people aware of the stakes linked to diversity, challenging misconceptions and stereotypes, showcasing plurality as a source of richness, and valuing individual talents, these actions must all be supported by communication operations.

These can take on many forms, and next 26th May will be a chance for unprecedented coverage.

> Set up an exhibit on the theme of diversity.

The diversity of staff can thus be showcased on the organisation’s premises (supported by figures, photo portraits or a wall on which instantaneous pictures of the employees/clients etc. are added all day).

> Disseminate a brochure or flyer for the employees and/or stakeholders.

In order to raise awareness of the organisation’s richness in an interactive way, several options are possible on 26th May.

- Organise a Market Place involving the persons in charge of diversity and a stand that offers more information on the issue and on their organisation’s commitment;
- Organise an in-company conference on the subject of diversity (global or specific to one of its aspects) and involving the senior management;
- Host a multicultural buffet or diversity menu. Employees are invited to share special dishes from their region or country of origin.

ORGANISE IN-COMPANY DIVERSITY MEETINGS

STAFF DIVERSITY IN THE SERVICE OF CLIENTS AND PATIENTS

Centre Hospitalier de Luxembourg (CHL)

The CHL presented its 2014 «Diversity Booklet», addressing the diversity of the employees, which serves the patients’ diversity.

To illustrate the booklet an exhibition of informative posters and testimonies was set up in the main entry.

THE THREAD OF DIVERSITY

AXA Assurances

In order to highlight cultural diversity at Axa, a wire of diversity has been placed in a common place. Each employee has completed a Diversity fact sheet containing information about their origins, nationalities or languages and attached it to the diversity wire, thus exposing the variety of their profiles.

THE THREAD OF DIVERSITY

ORGANISE IN-COMPANY DIVERSITY MEETINGS

TALKIN4BOUT OUR NEW GENERATIONS

Linklaters

For the Diversity Day in 2016, Linklaters hosted a conference on generation X and generation Y. Both generations shared their stories about mutual learning and how to make the most of these generational complementarities.

ACT FOR INCLUSION

Société Générale Luxembourg

For Diversity Day 2018, Société Générale Luxembourg wanted to promote equal opportunities for young people, but especially for young LGBTQIs by organizing a conference/debate on the theme «Our children, your children are our future employees, let’s act today for a real inclusion tomorrow».
A « game » (a mix between Bluff and Cluedo) was organized all day long to exchange an get to know the others better. Enigma and quizzes have enhanced the day.

GETTING TO KNOW THE OTHER BETTER TO WORK BETTER
PROGroup SA

The International School of Differdange and Esch-sur-Alzette has organized a series of activities on the theme of diversity for its students. Through a rallye including videos, quizzes, movie screening, workshops and mini concert, the students were thus informed and made aware of the different aspects of diversity.

DIVERSITY RALLYE
Ecole Internationale de Differdange
Esch-sur-Alzette

RBC offered its employees to learn about 6 diversity themes through the organisation of stands on: equal opportunities, languages, art, age, disability and LGBT, as well as historical personalities who fought for human rights.

WELCOME TO DIVER-CITY !
RBC Investor & Treasury Services

Hosting an event on Diversity Day Lëtzebuerg that goes beyond the scope of the organisation makes it possible to promote diversity with a wider audience.

> Organise a conference or roundtable with specialists on the subject (politicians, economists, etc.);
> Publish the results of a study linked to diversity;
> Make the most of the organisation’s structure (bus or train stations, agencies, branch offices) to interact with your client base;
> Set up an appointment for diversity in a public place.

ORGANISE AN EVENT THAT IS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

PUBLIC MOVIE SCREENING
Time For Equality

In 2018, to highlight the fact that Diversity Day coincided with the International Day Against Homophobia and Transphobia, Time For Equality organized the screening of the movie «The Queen of Ireland» open to the public. This documentary addresses the subject of the LGBT movement in Ireland through the portrait of Rory O’Neill and its alter ego Panti, that became the symbol of Ireland’s march towards marriage equality.
TOURS AND OPEN HOUSES

The national Diversity Day is the chance to enable people to visit an unknown place or to present this place in an unexpected manner highlighting its link to diversity.

> Open House.
In an inclusive approach of breaking social boundaries, organisations can invite populations who are usually apart from these venues to come and discover their premises, their professions, art collections, etc. This can be particularly relevant for places that are prestigious and generally reserved to privileged audiences.

> Diversity Tour: guided tours in the cities and communes.
The idea is to place this visit under the spotlight of diversity by proposing historical and cultural perspectives that enrich the presentation of the territory. Visits can be offered by taking into account people with reduced mobility, and practical maps of the city can be created specifically for this public.

EDUCATE (ONESELF)

A DIVERSITY TRAINING SESSION TO ENCOURAGE THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE ORGANISATION’S DIVERSITY POLICY

> Organise a training session in the form of conferences, workshops, seminars, training meetings. This can involve several types of public:
- people who belong to target groups (persons with a disability, women, etc.)
- the management team
- HR managers
- communications managers
- middle management
- employees who deal directly with the public, etc.

> Raise awareness of each person’s unconscious forms of bias with the stereotype test: www.implicit.harvard.edu/implicit/
The implicit project introduces a method that shows differences between conscious and unconscious thoughts. This new method is called the Implicit Association test or IAT.

> Possibly call on external trainers if this resource is not available in-company.

Ville de Dudelange

The Equal Opportunities Service of the City of Dudelange organized in 2018 two internal trainings on the accessibility of public information, on easy language and its implementation in the different documents and the production of files accessible to all.
INNOVATE

LAUNCH DIVERSITY PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

The influence and main impact of an organisation lies in the products and services it offers. The national Diversity Day is an opportunity to launch products or services related to diversity.

> Imagine inclusive products and services.

The innovation here is the ability to anticipate and meet the needs of these target audiences: offer contracts or customer relations monitoring in different languages and adapted to different cultures and needs (writing in Braille, etc.).

> Celebrate Diversity Day and raise awareness through the products.

Special editions can be imagined to mark the commitment and values of the organisation and highlight its actions in favour of diversity: special stamps, a range of receipts, bank cards, telephone operator messages, stamps on envelopes, etc.

Use of the Diversity Day Lëtzebuerg logo (see specifications on the following communication tools section, at page 30).

The national Diversity Day makes it possible to take concrete steps towards creating a work environment and well-being that enables the inclusion of all in the professional sphere.

May 26 could be the day you start renovation works or open a redesigned workplace that ensures access for people with reduced mobility (ex.: access ramp).

ACT ON ACCESS FOR PEOPLE WITH LIMITED MOBILITY

AG2R LA MONDIALE announced and started the refurbishment of all its premises in order to guarantee the access to all the premises and departments of the company to people with reduced mobility.

ACT ON ENVIRONMENT AND WELL-BEING AT WORK

> Announce and implement a programme for flexible scheduling.

The diversity of family situations (in particular childcare, presence for dependant persons) and physical conditions requires organizations to rethink the notion of presence at work and to be open to solutions that are adapted to each and everyone.

On May 26th you could sign a long-term partnership or make an ad-hoc action concrete in partnership with a non-profit organisation acting for diversity.

These partnerships will make it possible to:

> Include target audiences among one’s employees (internship or access to employment);

> Encourage mentoring;

> Develop volunteering in the company through the organisation of a community day;

> Engage in skills sponsorship;

> Provide logistical support;

> Get involved in joint projects.

SIGN INNOVATIVE PARTNERSHIPS AS REGARDS DIVERSITY

Société Générale Luxembourg highlighted the discovery of knitting by associating with Mamie and Me. This action aimed at promoting the exchange between retired women and employees around an activity that finds a second youth. The grannies were thus offered a supplement of income while allowing them to keep a social life.

For Diversity Day 2018, Elisabeth wanted to raise awareness on religious diversity by inviting its collaborators to several guided tours of places of worship and an exhibition on the world of prayer meditation. In addition, the organization partnered with the ErwuesseBildung asbl to create a multimedia presentation with the theme: «Different religions, festivals and customs».
